

NOTICE

2-11-2017

Attention- I semester B.com students -Online registration for foundation course

B.Com students who had written the I semester examination in October 2017 will be promoted to II Semester in November 2017. The Foundation Course for the second semester will start from 13-11-2017. They have to select either (i) environmental studies and civic sense or (ii) computer fundamentals for their foundation course in II semester. There are 200 seats available for each course mentioned above. Students are hereby directed to select one of the above said foundation courses and register for the same online. The online registration can be done through the student portal. Registration will open on 8-11-2017 at 10am. The registration for the courses are made on 'first come first served' basis. Registration for any course will close when 200 students have registered for the same. In such a case students have to compulsorily register for the other course even if it is not their personal choice.

All students are expected to have 75% attendance in the foundation course to be eligible to write the Foundation course examination which will be held on 18-11-2017. Those who were denied permission to write the examination and those who fail in the examination will be marked as 'fail' in the second semester marks card.
